SOUTHERN CHIVALRY HER ONLY HOPE

MRS. MOLLIE BOWIE, ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HUBER POSEY, WHO BETRAYED DAUGHTER.

Special to the Herald.

Laplata, Md., July 11.—The trial of Mrs. Mollie Bowie and her son, jointly accused of the murder of Huber Posey, who betrayed Priscilla Bowie, a daughter and sister, began today. Mrs. Bowie is confident the Southern chivalry of the jury will acquit her without leaving the jury box. The daughter sat in the courtroom this morning, broken by shame, with her head bowed and softly cooing to a two months' old baby boy, born since the death of the faithless parent. Mrs. Bowie said today: "All I ask is for a jury of twelve Marylanders."

Mrs. Bowie on the stand said: "I killed C. D. Posey. He had continually made love to my daughter and begged her to marry him. She trusted him and he betrayed her. My son and I then asked him to marry my daughter if only long enough to save her honor. We told him he could get a divorce afterwards if he so desired, but he refused. I then shot him. That is all there is to the story."

Priscilla Bowie, the star witness in the case, was placed on the stand this afternoon, but became so hysterical that temporary adjournment was taken.

Special to the Herald.

Boise, Idaho, July 11.—Under a furious cross-examination Charles H. Moyer is sticking steadfastly to the story he told as a witness for the defense yesterday. His testimony is designed to substantiate the claim made that the Federation of Miners never countenanced violence, and that the mine owners had a monster conspiracy to ruin the Federation. He gave Orchard the lie direct, and proved an excellent witness for the defense.

His cross-examination will likely take all day, and it is announced that Haywood is to follow.

BEAUTIFUL MEMBER ITALIAN NOBILITY

MARCHIONESS MAGDALEN CASTELLINI SUFFOCATED IN THE TOMB OF HER LOVER.

Special to the Herald.

Florence, Italy, July 11.—The body of the Marchioness Magdalen Castellini, a beautiful member of the Italian nobility, was found today in the tomb with Signor Rossi, who died a few days before her disappearance. Her face was convulsed, limbs contorted, and the Italian nobility is seriously hysterical over the tragedy. It is conjectured that she visited the tomb of her sweetheart, Count Franchi, and wandered by mistake into the vault where Rossi's coffin lay, and at the sight which met her eyes swooned, and the attendants probably closed the vault in the darkness with out seeing her body, thus causing her death by suffocation.

The cemetery attendant who aided in closing the vault has gone mad and raves constantly over the error which cost the young lady's life.

RUMORS OF TROUBLE

In Local Labor Circles—Blacksmiths in I. & G. N. Shops Organize.

There is a persistent rumor of coming labor troubles in the I. & G. N. shops in this city, but the Herald has found it very difficult to get any authentic information about the situation. The blacksmiths employed in the shops in this city organized a local branch of the national union some time since, and have been working under the jurisdiction of the union lately. Within the past few days a number of blacksmiths have been let out of the shops, and it is claimed the men were let out because of their connection with the union. It is also rumored that other branches of the shops will be organized. As stated above the Herald has been able to get no definite information, but the above is the substance of a very persistent rumor.
